

jazzahead! 2020: These are the showcase bands

List of the 40 bands who will give concerts during the trade fair

Dear colleagues,

Below you will find an overview of the bands which have been selected for the short concerts, i.e. this is the list of the showcase bands for jazzahead! 2020 at MESSE BREMEN, together with thumbnail descriptions of each group, taken from their press packs.

jazzahead! 2020 takes place from Thursday 23 April until Sunday 26 April, with the showcases from the Thursday to the Saturday.

Canadian Night

Audrey Ochoa

Audrey Ochoa (tb), Sandro Dominelli (dr), Mike Lent (b-g)

Trombonist Audrey Ochoa is a rising star on the Canadian jazz scene. (...) mentor and trombone master Hugh Fraser describes her as “an inspired emerging artist that embodies the talent, inspiration and focus to make a major contribution at the highest level.”

<https://www.facebook.com/audrey.ochoa.908>

Carrier, Lambert, Edwards

François Carrier (as), Michel Lambert (dr), John Edwards (ac-bg)

“In sum this is world-class free jazz. You probably owe it to yourself to check it out closely. It is a real kicker!” (gapplegatemusic)

<https://www.francoiscarrier.com>

<https://francoiscarrier.bandcamp.com>

François Bourassa Quartet

François Bourassa (p), André Leroux (sax, fl, cl), Guy Boisvert (db), Guillaume Pilote (dr)

“A real ‚choc‘ surprises you as you didn't expect it ... the feeling of amazement does not fade with repeated listening ... when the music possesses so many qualities. Crazy energy, dense and nourishing writing, high-level soloists.” (Jazzmag)

<https://www.facebook.com/officiel.francois.bourassa/>

Itamar Erez quartet

Itamar Erez (p, g), Francois Houle (cl), James Meger (db), Kevin Romain (dr)

Itamar's music holds a depth and sensitivity that touches listeners deeply. It blends the delicateness of Middle Eastern music, the freedom found in jazz and the passion of flamenco, creating a unique sound all his own.

Steph Richards

Stephanie Richards (tpt), Andrew Munsey (dr), Cathlene Pineda (p), Sam Minaie (db)

Her second release Take The Neon Lights also received high praise from critics, Downbeat calling Steph "a virtuoso of nonlinear trumpet playing" and NextBop calling the record "mesmerising ... fans of avant-garde jazz should definitely give this one a listen".

www.stephrichards.com

German Jazz Expo

Heidi Bayer's "Virtual Leak"

Heidi Bayer (tpt, flgn), Johannes Ludwig (as), Leif Berger (dr), Calvin Lennig (db)

(...) the quartet has no harmony instrument. Therefore, harmony in the classical sense may not exist in Virtual Leak's music, but it still feels present. Sometimes it's dynamic, other times subtle. Stunning and contrasting passages with surprising twists are what make Virtual Leak an exciting listening experience.

Hendrika Entzian+

jazzahead! is funded by

Die Beauftragte der Bundesregierung
für Kultur und Medien

Andreas Haderer (tpt), Felix Meyer (tpt), Bastian Stein (tpt), Heidi Bayer (tpt), Klaus Heidenreich (tb), Shannon Barnett (tb), Janning Trumann (tb), Jan Schreiner (tb), Matthew Halpin (sax), Sebastian Gille (ts), Julian Bossert (sax), Theresia Philipp (sax), Heiko Bidmon (sax), Simon Seidl (p), Sandra Hempel (g), Matthias Nowak (db), Fabian Arends (dr), Hendrika Entzian (cond)

(...) she has now assembled her own 17-piece orchestra of Cologne musicians, with She transfers the dynamically differentiated Modern Jazz of her quartet to a large cast: as a linear network of voices, which condense as if by chance into clusters of sounds.

<http://www.hendrika-entzian.de>

Johanna Summer (DE)

Johanna Summer (p)

Johanna Summer, german jazz pianist and composer living in Dresden and Berlin, started her piano career at age seven. She took lessons in classical music and was awarded several times at the german federal competition "Jugend musiziert". (...) Johanna's work focuses on the encounter of classical music's fidelity and the spontaneity of jazz.

Nau Trio (DE)

Henrique Gomide (p), Jean Cammas (b-g), Antoine Duijkers (dr, perc)

"Nau Trio is definitely a jazz trio and not just a world-music band. The rhythmic variety meets Western jazz harmonies. This creates a rhythm-driven jazz with great melodic ideas." (nrwjazz.net)

www.facebook.com/nautriomusic

NIAQUE (DE)

Stefan Karl Schmid (sax), Philipp Brämswig (g), David Helm (db), Fabian Arends (dr)

The clear, vocal themes of her compositions are counteracted by rhythmically always surprising movements and naturally flow into extensive improvisations. "Everything about this music appears to be well-dosed, skillful, balanced. And yet never lifeless, but lovingly elaborated, filed, sanded and colored." (Jazzthetik)

The True Harry Nulz

Nils Fischer (bcl), Siegmар Brecher (bcl), David Koch (g), Julian Adam Pajzs (g), Samuel Huwyler (b-g), Dominik Mahnig (dr), Valentin Schuster (dr)

"The true Harry Nulz" merges "Edi Nulz" and "The great Harry Hillman". Both bands are very active working bands since many years. (...) The thrill of the line-up is resulting out of a doubling-effect: two bass clarinets, two guitars, two drum sets and an electric bass as the basis provide clever arrangements, unison-stereo effects and improvisational outbursts.

Tilo Weber Quartet „Four Fauns”

Tilo Weber (dr); Richard Koch (tpt), Claudio Puntin (cl), James Banner (db)

jazzahead! is funded by

Die Beauftragte der Bundesregierung
für Kultur und Medien

Jazz standards are played backwards and preludes for fugue-like ballads are improvised. The quartet (...) thus presents contemporary jazz that is not avant-garde at the price of emotional coldness and does without clichés.

ESCALANDRUM (AR)

Daniel Piazzolla (dr, direc), Nicolas Guerschberg (p), Mariano Sivori (db), Damian Fogiel (ts), Gustavo Musso (ss, as), Martin Pantyrer (bcl)

Daniel „Pipi“ Piazzolla started ESCALANDRUM (Jazz – ARG) in 1999. The group’s name is a portmanteau of „Escalandrún“ (a species of shark which „Pipi“ fishes with his father Daniel – hobby started by his grandfather Astor Piazzolla) and „drum“.

European Jazz Meeting

Camilla George (GB)

Camilla George (sax), Daniel Casimir (db), Sarah Tandy (p), Rod Youngs (dr)

jazzahead! is funded by

Die Beauftragte der Bundesregierung
für Kultur und Medien

(Camilla's) music is a hypnotizing blend of Afrofuturism, hip hop and jazz. Camilla's music is politically minded and heavily linked with African history and slavery in particular.

<https://www.facebook.com/gharibian.macha/>

Nefertiti Quartet (FR)

Delphine Deau (p). Camille Maussion (saxs), Pedro Ferreira (db), Pierre Demange (dr)

With a common instrumental form, the quartet manages to find its originality through its compositions that combine polyrhythm and groove. All written by the pianist Delphine Deau, the tunes are mainly influenced by North American Jazz, with a large space for improvisation and interaction between the musicians.

Synesthetic 4 (AT)

Vincent Pongrácz (cl), Peter Rom (g), Manuel Mayr (b), Andreas Lettner (dr)

An important part of their music are complex but catchy rhythms that originate from hip hop, contemporary groove and electronic music (...) "Dada-Rap" and abstractly folkloristic melodies that are sometimes inspired by Olivier Messiaen harmonies are meant to leave a humoristic or even bizarre impression on the listener. "Less well known but more groundbreaking ... pushed the boundary between Rap and Scat" (Jazzjournal)

Théo Ceccaldi Trio (FR)

Theo Ceccaldi (vln), Valentin Ceccaldi (cl), Guillaume Aknine (g)

The trio works with original compositions "under the influence" and revisited big classics associated with the great gypsy guitarist. With its unorthodox orchestration (amplified guitar, cello ...), the ensemble shifted towards a new form of "chamber jazz" (...) while using all the expected attributes of gypsy jazz (rhythmic energy, melodic grandiosity) amplifying its virtue and modernizing its codes.
